CHOOSE YOUR ADVENTURE

The Defence Science and Technology Agency (DSTA) brings you to the forefront of technological innovation in engineering, digital transformation and cybersecurity.

Look forward to a rewarding career as we work on state-of-the-art defence systems and capabilities, unmanned technologies, software development and artificial intelligence.

DSO National Laboratories (DSO) is Singapore's largest defence research and development organisation, with the critical mission of developing technological solutions for Singapore's defence and national security.

You'll benefit from training programmes that enhance your skills and knowledge, and gain exposure from global scholarships.

The Centre for Strategic Infocomm Technologies (CSIT) is the leading cybersecurity agency and key provider of secured digital solutions for the Singapore defence and public sectors. By harnessing cutting-edge digital technologies, CSIT provides innovative solutions to meet Singapore's national security needs.
